

The L-39 Jet Trainer

Generations of Russian cosmonauts have prepared for space in this incredible L-39 Albatross military jet! Jet fighters are used to help prepare space travelers for the high-g forces of a space launch. (NASA uses another jet trainer, the supersonic T-38, to train American astronauts for space.)

The aircraft is fully equipped with active ejection seats for your safety.

ZERO-GRAVITY TRAINING ...

Experience the sensation of floating in space! Add Zero-Gravity Training in the Rockwell Commander 700 to your Space Flight Training Adventure, or better yet, complete an intense two-day training program that includes academic, physical and flight training.

It is recommended that you take motion sickness medication prior to the flight in order to ensure a good time. Usually, 10-12 maneuvers are performed.

Sold separately, the price is $2500.

L-39 Space Training Florida

Fly this exciting and responsive jet under the close supervision of our flight instructors. You will experience the type of sustained g-forces and weightlessness one would undergo during a suborbital flight.

No flight experience is needed. High "g" maneuvers and basic acrobatics are part of this "top gun" flight.
