Soft-In-Water-Encounters

Participants in a Soft-In-Water encounter may use mask, snorkel and fins; but no SCUBA or rebreather equipment of any type is allowed. In a Soft-In-Water encounter there is no aggressive swimming or freediving. Participants are also required to stay together as a group. So though it is commonly referred to as "swimming with whales," there is little swimming involved! By entering the water quietly, and floating peacefully as a group, the participants minimize any disturbance to the whales, and then allow the whale to choose to approach or not. It is an encounter in their environment, on their terms.

Your Destination

Silver Bank, Dominican Republic

Hispaniola, the second largest island in all the Antilles, is shared by the nations of Haiti and the Dominican Republic with the DR occupying the eastern two thirds. Lying 70 miles north of the coast, the Silver Bank is part of The Sanctuary for the Marine Mammals of the Dominican Republic. It is here, in a designated anchorage, that the Sun Dancer II moors for the duration of your visit. Tenders take our small group in search of whales each day. Sun Dancer II is one of only three vessels to hold a permit to bring visitors into Sanctuary waters. Only 60 visitors are permitted each week and regulations to ensure the integrity of the Sanctuary and safety of the whales are carefully followed.

What Do I Need to Bring?

You'll need to bring your own mask, snorkel and fins, or plan on renting. You may also wish to bring or rent a wetsuit. Shorts, t-shirts, bathing suits, sweater, and wind breaker should be adequate for the week on board. Don't forget personal toiletries, sunscreen and meds, sunglasses, hat, camera, good book and a notebook and pen. Remember, this is a week long live-aboard adventure and you should feel very comfortable on the water.

We suggest purchasing trip cancellation insurance and also dive insurance which covers snorkeling.
