Learn Aerobatic Flying From Air Show Pilot Rich Perkins

Rich Perkins is a former U-2 pilot, a retired US Air Force Lieutenant Colonel, an International Air Show Pilot and an Award-Winning Instructor Pilot. He has more than 10,000 flight hours in more than 120 different aircraft.

You'll take off with Rich from California's Livermore Airport (LVK). The municipal airport is an easy drive from San Francisco and Oakland. Livermore offers great year-round flying weather and is home to several top wineries.

When Rich isn't instructing pilots, he can often be found performing at air shows in "Firecat" and "Mako Shark".

Flight Training is Available in the Marchetti SF-260, Pitts S2B, Super-D, T-34 and T-6.
